Description :

Financial statements have the potential to be become a map or a maze for users. The purpose of a map is to help its users reach a desired destination through clarity of representation, while a maze attempts to confuse its users. To make financial statements a map, it is not enough for users just to read and analyze them, but also try to understand more deeply (a) how the financial statements are prepared, (b) what accounting rules and methods are used to prepare them, and what is the nature and limitation of the generally accepted accounting principles (the GAAP) as a base for producing statements, knowing all about these issues, we will be fully aware the financial statements of a company do not represent exactly accurate figures
