Abstract

Title: Analysis of Financial Performance Net Working Capital, Debt to Equity Ratio, and Net Profit Margin to Price of Book Value in the Mining Industry in 2014-2017

Name: Mulia Sari

Study Program: Accounting

This study aims to analyze the Analysis of Financial Performance Net Working Capital, Debt to Equity Ratio, and Net Profit Margin to the Price of Book Value in the Mining Industry in 2014-2017.

The method used is purposive sampling. The number of samples used in this study are 14 property and real estate companies registered at Indonesia stock exchange for 4 years so that the number of samples is 60 financial statement data. Types of data are secondary data sourced from financial reports and annual reports. The data analysis method used is multiple linear regression with the help of SPSS 23.

The results of hypothesis testing indicate that simultaneously NWC, DER, NPM against PBV. Partially NWC and NPM have a significant negative effect on PBV while DER has a significant positive effect on PBV.

Keywords: Net Working Capital, Debt to Equity Ratio, Net Profit Margin and Price of Book Value.