

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First of all I would like to express my special appreciation and thanks to my Advisor, Mrs. Yan Li, all of my lecturer in Nanjing Xiaozhuang University, my Chairman of the Business Sector in Accounting Department of Esa Unggul University Jakarta, which also as my Advisor in this research, Mr. Adrie Putra, SE, MM, and all of my lecturer in Esa Unggul University Jakarta for the patient guidance, encouragement and advice they have provided throughout my time as their student. I have been extremely lucky to have the advisors who cared so much about my work. And don't forget I must express my gratitude to my parent, my brother, Kevin Chandra and all my family in Indonesia for their continued support and encouragement, and also my lovely family that living in Taiwan and Singapore that care so much to me. Completing this work would have been all the more difficult were it not for the support provided by Tania Indah Syafani, my roommate for these 4 years who has helped me so much in every situation, the other WOI's Squad Sylvia Septika, Indrya Bestari, and Yoana D.H for the friendship and supports since 2015, Imelda Soetikno that give me some suggestions and support in this thesis writing, the other members of the School of Business Nanjing Xiaozhuang University and Esa Unggul University Jakarta, and support from all friends that I can't mention one by one. I also would like to express my special thanks to Mrs. Sophie Mou that has been coordinate us, for all dedications, recommendations, and helps for the international student for these two years in Nanjing Xiaozhuang University. I am indebted to them for their help. Those people who provided a much need form of escape from my studies, also deserve thanks for helping me keep things in perspective. Finally, I would like to thank to God, for letting me through all the difficulties and finally finish my degree.